

Sleeve Clark ECO Black Rivacase

Descriptif produit

The ultra-thin case specially designed to provide elegant and discreet protection for your laptops.

Designed for MacBooks and Ultrabooks.
Its slim design allows for easy transport, whether on its own or slipped into a bag.

Eco-design in recycled polyester
Made from eco-responsible RPET polyester, each case gives a second life to approximately four 500ml plastic bottles destined for disposal or the ocean. An environmentally friendly choice that combines technological protection with a sustainable commitment.

Enhanced water protection
Thanks to its waterproof zipper and water-resistant exterior, this case effectively protects your device from splashes, moisture, and everyday weather. Added security for your travels.

Soft lining and contrasting design
The interior of the case features a soft fleece lining in a contrasting color. It protects the surface of your computer from micro-scratches while adding a subtle touch of style. of refinement.

Reinforced corners for better shock absorption
The interior flap protectors are designed to firmly hold the corners of your device while effectively protecting them in the event of an impact. This discreet yet essential security feature extends the life of your equipment.

Convenient and quick opening
Equipped with two zipper pulls, the case allows quick and easy access to your computer. Whether you're traveling or in a meeting, you're always ready to work with just a touch.
