A unique combination of style and technology

The Maxcom FW27 Selen is an essential part of an elegant everyday life. This jewellery-like smartwatch combines elegant design with cutting-edge technology, helping you take care of your health, fitness and relationships.

Exceptional design

The Maxcom FW27 Selen is the very definition of elegance and subtlety. Its ultra-thin profile and timeless shape make this model the ideal choice for a woman's wrist. The watch is made of stainless steel and its metal case, combined with a subtly sparkling strap, gives it exceptional charm and sophistication.

Smart jewellery

With a case thickness of only 6.8 mm, the Selen is extremely comfortable to wear. Its elegant and refined look makes the watch not only a functional tool, but also a stylish piece of jewellery.

1.32-inch AMOLED screen

The smartwatch features a large, easy-to-read AMOLED display that offers sharp images, vibrant colours and an AOD (always-on display) mode. The sensitive touchscreen provides an exceptional visual experience and ease of use, making every interaction with the watch smooth and enjoyable. An additional glass cover ensures that your watch will always look as good as new.

Unique watch faces

One of Selen's unique features is its exclusive, designer watch faces, which can be changed to suit your outfit, the occasion or your mood. In addition, the dedicated app offers over 100 free watch faces, ranging from digital to analogue, colourful to understated. Every woman will find a design that allows her to express her style and personality.

Up to 10 days without recharging

With average use, the smartwatch offers up to 10 days of battery life. You no longer need to remember to put a charger in your bag every day.

Hands-free calls

You can answer and make calls directly from the watch. The built-in phonebook and numeric keypad allow you to stay connected with ease. The watch also alerts you to new messages and app notifications, such as WhatsApp.

Well-being

The Selen helps improve your quality of life and well-being every day. The watch will remind you to drink water, alert you if you haven't taken enough steps and analyse your sleep. It also monitors your heart rate, oxygen saturation and blood pressure, and alerts you when the results deviate from the norm.

Personal assistant

Alarms, a stopwatch and a voice assistant are just some of the features that make life easier on the fast track. The Selen displays weather forecasts and lets you listen to music, making it an indispensable companion for an active lifestyle.

For active people

The Selen is not a typical sports watch, but for those who are interested, it offers tracking for over 70 disciplines, such as cycling, running, yoga and cardio training. The watch tracks sports parameters, counts calories burned and measures heart rate, motivating you to achieve better results.
